Why you need this training: ALL employers in California with 50 or more employees are required to provide a minimum of two hours of training every two years on sexual harassment to all employees who have any level of supervisory responsibility. NCPFC and NCGMA are pleased to join together once again to provide a low-cost method to ensure that our members are in compliance. All employers, regardless of size, should participate in such training since sexual harassment laws apply to all employers.

About our Workshop Facilitator: Frank Mellon has provided Human Resources training to management teams in the Bay Area for both public sector and private sector employers and in unionized cultures. Additionally, he has taught various Human Resources programs at Cal-State University East Bay and San Francisco State. For over 25 years, Frank has been providing training programs on the subject of Sexual Harassment and has investigated cases for employers – furnishing reports and provided recommendations. Frank Mellon has Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from the University of Hawaii and a M.B.A. from St. Mary's College.
